What’s New in Greenwich for 2015?

Samuel Pepys: Plague, Fire and Revolution

Samuel Pepys was one of the most colourful and appealing characters of the 17th-century and witness to the great events that shaped Stuart Britain, brilliantly brought to life in his famous diary. Using the voice and personality of Samuel Pepys, the exhibition will explore and interpret the period from the execution of Charles I in 1649 to the Glorious Revolution of 1688. www.rmg.co.uk

Against Captain’s Orders: A Journey into the Uncharted
National Maritime Museum, 28 March - August 2015

In an exclusive first for the museum industry, the National Maritime Museum in Greenwich is collaborating with Punchdrunk Enrichment to create an exhibit for six to twelve year olds and their families. With so much history secured in one museum, Against Captain’s Orders: A Journey into the Unchartered takes the audience on an adventure of a lifetime through the extraordinary collection of maritime artefacts.

Greenwich is now better for group travel than ever before. Greenwich promises groups a great mix of heritage favourites with new experiences, making it an exciting destination to include in your itineraries. Groups can now travel to The O2 by Emirates Air Line where Emirates Aviation Experience, Up at The O2 and Brooklyn Bowl London bring the area to life.

This is contrasted with a visit to the Maritime Greenwich World Heritage Site, just a short river trip away, where history, culture and a cool independent vibe all combine to make this Royal Borough one of London’s tourism gems.
