Royal Museums Greenwich

Royal Museums Greenwich is home to the Royal Observatory & the Peter Harrison Planetarium, Cutty Sark, National Maritime Museum and The Queen's House.

A UK top-10 visitor attraction, Royal Museums Greenwich is the place to discover sea and space exploration, British heritage, royal history, art and pioneering architecture.

The four landmark attractions are located within the UNESCO World Heritage Site of historic Royal Greenwich, one of London's most charming areas. All of the world class sites are within easy walking distance of each other.

2022 is an exciting year for Royal Museums Greenwich, with major exhibitions, new tours and a number of events taking place throughout the year.

Cutty Sark Rig Climb Experience is a brand-new adventure at Cutty Sark opening in 2022. For the first time since arriving in Greenwich in 1954, visitors to Cutty Sark will be able to climb the famous masts and enjoy views of the River Thames and London.

Royal Museums Greenwich: National Maritime Museum

The National Maritime Museum will host Exposure: Lives at Sea a brand-new photography exhibition at the National Maritime Museum, exploring what life is really like for those who work at sea today. Through a series of photographs taken by those working in the maritime industry, the exhibition shines a light on this often forgotten but integral work.

The hugely popular Astronomy Photographer Exhibition of the Year returns to celebrate the very best in astrophotography from around the world at the National Maritime Museum.

Behind the scenes at the National Maritime Museum is a new tour at the Prince Philip Maritime Collections Centre. The Prince Philip Maritime Collection Centre is the location at which the majority of the National Maritime Museum's collection is stored and cared for when not on display to the public, just a 15-minute journey from Maritime Greenwich. The new tours of the collections centre give guests the opportunity to go behind the scenes and see how the organisation cares for the largest collection of maritime objects in the world; including surviving pieces from the Titanic and relics belonging to Admiral Nelson.

Royal Museums Greenwich: The Queen's House

The Queen's House, in partnership with Woburn Abbey, showcases Woburn Treasures, a historic collaboration sees a variety of major art works from the private art collection of The Duke and Duchess of Bedford. The collection is considered to be one of the most important art collections still in private hands.

Highlights on display will include a full-length portrait of Anne of Denmark by Flemish artist Gheeraerts the Younger, a striking full length of Lady Elizabeth Keppel by Sir Joshua Reynolds and Canaletto's large-scale Regatta on the Grand Canal. Alongside these masterpieces, a selection of sculptures, ceramics and a silver-gilt toilette set spanning the 17th to 19th century will feature in the display.

Set in a UNESCO World Heritage Site, The Queen's House Ice Rink is surrounded by iconic architecture, with views of Greenwich Park to the south and the glittering lights of Canary Wharf to the north, providing a backdrop of some of the best views in London. Opening 18th November – 9th January 2022.

Old Royal Naval College

Old Royal Naval College is the centrepiece of Maritime Greenwich, a UNESCO World Heritage Site with a long and celebrated 500-year history. Today it is a diverse cultural destination and one of London's most popular venues and visitor attractions.

Explore the peaceful riverside location and Sir Christopher Wren's iconic architecture. The stunning buildings and extensive grounds tell 500 years of remarkable history that lists an incredible cast of monarchs and famous British figures, from Henry VIII and Elizabeth I to Vice-Admiral Lord Nelson.

Visitors can explore 'Britain's Sistine Chapel', Sir James Thornhill's breath taking Baroque Painted Hall and its neighbour, the glorious Chapel of St Peter and St Paul. It's easy to escape the crowds and discover 40,000 square feet of awe-inspiring painted walls and ceiling. Painted Hall tickets include entry to the Chapel and the Skittle Alley where visitors can try their hand at Victorian bowling. Multimedia guides (in English, French, Spanish, Italian, Chinese Mandarin, German and Japanese) and guided tours are also included. History buffs can explore the room where Admiral Lord Nelson's body lay in state and can see the recently discovered Tudor foundations of Greenwich Palace in the King William Undercroft which also houses a new café, shop and interpretation gallery.

The new Coach Tourism initiative at the Old Royal Naval College allows up to two coaches per day to disembark on the site's main avenue. All coaches must be pre-booked and pre-approved.

Film & TV Location Tour at the Old Royal Naval College is the chance to experience a behind-the-scenes tour of 'the most popular filming location in the world' (Empire magazine).

LHG (London Hotel Group)

LHG (London Hotel Group) has won planning permission to convert and extend the former Greenwich Magistrates' Court and two empty educational buildings into a 293-bed boutique hotel.

Located within the Ashburnham Triangle Conservation Area in Greenwich, London, project designed by Squire & Partners will retain the Grade II Listed Magistrates' Court and the two redundant school buildings, as well as reintroducing public access to the Court building and creating new green space and local amenities.

The ground floor of the former Magistrates' Court and one of the school buildings will contain front of house hotel services such as bar, restaurant and café, giving the buildings a new life and creating new amenities for both hotel guests and local residents. The new scheme will also include a range of public, semi-public and private green spaces, including a new public square, built around an existing mature tree, and animated by a restaurant or cafe. Further facilities include a gym, pool, conference centres and generous parking spaces.

Expected to open in 2022.

The Elizabeth Line

The Elizabeth line is due to open in the first half of 2022. The new Crossrail service will reduce the journey time between Woolwich and the West End. The route will eventually pass through 41 stations from Reading and Heathrow in the west, through new twin-bore 21 km tunnels to Shenfield and Abbey Wood in the east.

Expected to open in 2022.
